Dear Friends of Sustainable Outreach Solutions,

Please join us for the inaugural Sustainable Outreach Solutions Black Tie Gala, Friday, April 2, 2010, 7 p.m., at Gainey Ranch Golf Club in Scottsdale. This event will raise much needed funds for Sustainable Outreach Solutions, a nonprofit organization of engineers, engineering students, surgeons, anesthesiologists, nurses, surgical technicians and support personnel who travel the globe drilling water wells, installing solar lighting, building communication systems and performing multi-specialty surgical procedures wherever the need arises. We also provide education to local individuals in engineering and surgical techniques (the old, "give a fish—teach how to fish" philosophy).

We encourage your participation in this Black Tie Gala with the purchase of a sponsor package to support the Sustainable Outreach Solution Fund. Included with our sponsor packages is broad exposure of your business in the event program.

The special guest speakers for this year's event are retired Phoenix Police Officer, Jason Schechterle, and Graciela Nobles. Officer Schechterle is a local hero who was severely burned when a taxi traveling over 100 mph rear-ended his police cruiser causing the gas tank to explode. He has made a remarkable recovery and is an inspiration to all who meet him. Graciela Nobles, from Bolivia, was severely burned when a kerosene lamp blew over in the hut where she lived. It started the hut on fire severely burning her face and hands. She was adopted by a woman who met Gracie during a mission to Bolivia and brought her back to Phoenix. Through the Foundation for Burns and Trauma, and with donations of significant surgical and anesthesia fees and hospital services, she underwent reconstruction of her burn scars changing her life dramatically. All of our volunteers donate their time and talents and cover their own travel expenses. Any assistance you can offer would be greatly appreciated.

We hope you can be part of the inaugural Sustainable Outreach Solutions Black Tie Gala. Your participation benefits your company, and also supports a great cause for those much less fortunate than us. For more information, please call 480-948-3250.
